

Background

Ohio Revised Code Section 3302.034 (A) says:

Not later than December 31, 2013, the state board of education shall adopt and specify measures in addition to those included on the report card issued under section 3302.03 of the Revised Code. The measures adopted under this section shall be reported separately, as specified under division (B) of this section, for each school district, each building in a district, each community school established under Chapter 3314., each STEM school established under Chapter 3326., and each college-preparatory boarding school established under Chapter 3328. of the Revised Code.

This section grants the state board of education the ability to include other data on the report card beyond the requirements in 3302.03. In late 2013, the board adopted the additional measures and the list of fine arts courses offered was one of them.

ODE uses the Course Master (CN) Record and the Student Course (GN) Record to determine which fine arts courses are offered by a district or school. Districts report a Course Master Record that lists all the courses offered by the district or school. The Course Master record includes the Subject Code Element (CN050 Record) which tells ODE the subject of the course being offered. The Course Master Record also includes a unique Local Classroom Code Element (CN060 Record) which identifies the teacher, period or section, subject and building. For example, one code will be assigned for first period vocal/choral music for Mrs. Smith at Elm Street High School and a different code will be assigned to second period vocal/choral music for Mrs. Smith at Elm Street High School, etc.

When a student enrolls in a course, the district reports that same Local Classroom Code Element on the Student's Course Record (the GN080 Record) and ODE uses that code to tie the student to the exact course being taught (i.e. – is the student in Mrs. Smith's vocal/choral music class during first period or second period, etc.).

When ODE produces the list of fine arts courses offered, a course is added to the list if the district reports at least one student with a Local Classroom Code that matches the Course Master Record for any of the Fine Arts Subject Codes listed below. Because the calculation matches on that Local Classroom Code, it is important for districts to check that the codes in the CN record and the GN record align.

The Fine Arts measure is reported for all public and STEM districts and for all community and public schools. The courses that can be offered include:
